

Who are we?

We're an independent, family owned hotel in the heart of Speyside with two amazing food and beverage outlets.

We have a team of dedicated chefs who have been with us for over 5 seasons. They understand the quality and availability of produce in the surrounding area, are able to understand what our diners want and deliver a menu that changes season upon season – oh and adapt a specials board every.single.day depending on what is brought to the kitchen door that morning.

The team are a brigade with qualities to rival the best of the best and in need of some fresh blood to join them! Why? Because we are about to get hit with a fully booked hotel, locals that get even hungrier in the summer months and we have a few new projects up our sleeve.

Who are we looking for?

The Craigellachie is looking for an early riser, a hard worker and someone who cooks a mean breakfast!

The ideal candidate will have experience working in a fast paced, multi-faceted environment. Furthermore, they should demonstrate a work ethic that mirrors who we are (see above).

We want someone to come and embrace The Craigellachie Life with us: find yourself on the door step of Speyside's playground, where you could be surfing in the morning and snowboarding by the afternoon; explore some of the world's most famous whisky distilleries, which just happen to be a stones throw away; cook for guests from all around the world - from London's Primrose Hill to New York's East Village.

We look forward to hearing from you.
